PHASE 6 — DOMESTIC FANTASY
Paint the picture: you were made for a man like him
Let HIM bring up escalation — never initiate

> Target Subscriber Profile: Blue-collar workers — linemen, electricians, plumbers, mechanics, welders, truck drivers, hunters, fishermen, construction workers. They want to feel respected, admired, and desired — not judged. Your job is to make them feel like the most masculine, capable man you've ever talked to.

> ⚠️ GOLDEN RULE ON ESCALATION: Never initiate sexual topics or push for tips/PPV. Let HIM bring it up naturally. Your job is to build the connection so strong that HE wants to go further. The moment you chase the money, you lose the relationship.

✍️ CORE MESSAGING RULES (Read Before Everything Else)

1. One sentence = one message. Never send walls of text — split every thought into its own bubble
2. Stretch names — mikeyyyy / tommmmm / austinnnn / brandonnnnn / scottyyyy
3. Use "u" not "you" and "ur" not "your" — casual American texting
4. Double letters for emotion — soooo / noooo / wowww / heyyy / omgggg
5. Lowercase everything — it feels intimate, not robotic
6. Emojis sparingly — 👀 😇 🥺 😮 at the right moment, not every message
7. React FIRST, then ask — always respond to what he said emotionally before your next question
8. One question at a time — never stack two questions in one message
9. Typos are okay — if you make one, just send a correction: `tell` / `Maryland`
10. Never be available instantly every single time — occasional slight delay makes you feel real

---

🗂️ PHASE 1 — THE OPENER

This is the first impression. The goal is to get his real name and make him feel excited that you're engaging. GOAL is to find out about his name, age and location!

Scenario A — He messages with just "hey" or "hi"

`sooo hey is ur first or last name ;))`

`hehehe`

Scenario B — He messages with "hey gorgeous" or a compliment

`awww stoppp`

`what's ur name tho?`

`i wanna know who i'm talking to`

Scenario C — He messages with "Tyler" → his name (MOST OFTEN HAPPENING SCENARIO)

heyyy tylerrrr

sooo happy to get to know u!

how old are u and where are u from?

Scenario D — He messages with a full intro like "Hey I'm Mike from Texas"

`mikeeee heyyy!!`

`soooo happy u reached out`

`how old are u?`

Scenario E — He sends a one word "sup"

`haha sup is that how u greet a girl?`

`i'm joking i'm joking`

> 💡 Pro Tip: Always get the name first. Using his name repeatedly throughout the convo is the single biggest connection builder. People never get tired of hearing their own name

---

🗂️ PHASE 2 — GET TO KNOW (Building the Foundation)

Once you have the name, pivot to age + location + job. This is your intel gathering phase — every detail he gives you becomes ammunition for deeper connection later.

Step 1 — React to his location like it's interesting

`oh love that!`

`how are u enjoying life out in [STATE]?`

Examples by state:

- Texas: `oh i loveeee texas honestly the people there are just different`
- Maryland: `oh i heard maryland is so beautiful especially by the water`
- Kentucky: `omg i love kentucky!! u ever been to the horse races?`
- Florida: `lucky u!! i'd love to be somewhere warm rn`
- Midwest (Ohio, Indiana, Illinois): `i love the mid west honestly real people live there`

Step 2 — Ask about his work

`what do u do for work btw?`

If he hesitates or says "just a regular job":

`nooo don't say just lol`

`what do u actually do?`

If he says something impressive like "I build houses":

`wait are u serious`

`that is so cool to me honestly`

🗂️ PHASE 3 — JOB VALIDATION (The Most Important Phase)

This is where most chatters fail. Blue-collar men spend their whole lives being underestimated. When you flip that script — you win them for life.reddit+1

🔌 Electrician / Lineman / Power Worker

`oh so u r literally the reason people have lights on at night`

`i never thought about that before but that's actually kind of amazing`

`so u are climbing poles and stuff?`

(after he confirms)

`u have no idea how attractive that is to me`

`i love a man who isn't afraid of heights or hard work`

🔧 Mechanic / Auto Technician

`so u are coming home all oily and greasy everyday?`

(after he says yes or "occupational hazard")

`damn u have no idea how much i love that`

`i honestly can't stand those office guys lol`

`real men come home dirty from work`

`and should have a warm meal cooked for them when they get home`

If he laughs it off or says women usually complain:

`yeaaa!`

`that's their loss honestly`

`i think rough hands and a dirty truck tell u everything u need to know about a man`

🚛 Truck Driver

`wait so u are basically the backbone of the whole economy?`

`i'm serious like nothing moves in this country without truck drivers`

`how long are ur trips usually?`

(after he answers)

`that sounds so lonely honestly`

`u deserve someone to come home to after all that`

If he mentions long haul routes:

`so ur just out there on the open road alone?`

`that actually sounds kind of peaceful in a way`

`but also i'd miss having someone to talk to`

🏗️ Construction Worker / Welder / Ironworker

`ohhh so u actually build things with ur hands`

`that is so underrated honestly`

`like u can look at a building and say i did that`

`i think that's one of the most manly things ever`

🌾 Farmer / Agriculture

`wait u actually work the land?`

`there is something so different about men who do that`

`like u are actually providing something real`

`i have so much respect for that honestly`

🪚 Carpenter / Woodworker

`so u make things out of nothing basically`

`that is lowkey one of the most attractive things ever`

`i love a man who can build stuff with his hands`

💧 Plumber / HVAC Technician

`lol u literally keep people from freezing and flooding`

`people don't realize how important that is until something breaks`

`do u do it all or do u specialize in something?`

> 💡 Key Insight: Men in trades are constantly compared negatively to office workers in mainstream culture. The moment you genuinely admire their work — not fake admire, but frame it as your personal preference — they feel something most women never gave them.reddit+1

🗂️ PHASE 4 — HOBBY MIRRORING (The Bonding Phase)

After work talk, pivot to free time. This is where the real personality comes out.

`what do u like to do for fun tho?`

`like after work i mean`

🎣 FISHING

When he says he likes to fish:

`damn i ran into a real man`

`i love that honestly`

`what kind of fish do u usually go for?`

When he describes the fish (bass, catfish, crappie, walleye, etc.):

`oh wow i actually love that`

`do u eat em or just throw em back?`

If he says he eats them (keeps catfish, crappie, etc.):

`oh i love that`

`i wish i had a man in my life who could catch fish and we would eat them together`

`that's just soooo manly to me`

`makes me go crazy honestly`

If he offers to take you:

`oh really u would teach me?`

`no one ever actually did that for me`

`i'd love to learn honestly`

If he sends fishing pictures:

`oh wow!! what a catch`

`look at the size of that thing`

`u clearly know what ur doing out there`

If he fishes early mornings:

`so ur up before sunrise just to go sit by the water?`

`that sounds so peaceful honestly`

`i'd love that kind of morning`

🦌 HUNTING

When he says he hunts:

`oh my god no wayyyy`

`a man who hunts is literally my type honestly`

`what do u usually go for?`

If he says deer:

`do u do bow or rifle?`

(after he answers)

`ok bow hunting is literally so impressive to me`

`that takes so much patience and skill`

If he says turkey:

`turkey hunting is so hard from what i've heard`

`u have to be so quiet and still`

`i feel like that says a lot about a man's patience`

If he processes the meat himself:

`wait u do it all yourself?`

`from field to table that is so cool`

`i love that u actually use what u hunt`

If he offers to take you sometime:

`oh u would really take me?`

`i've always wanted to try that honestly`

`i feel like u would have to teach me everything tho lol`

🔧 WORKING ON CARS / TRUCKS / PROJECTS

When he says he works on his vehicles:

`ok so u r literally the definition of a handyman`

`i find that so attractive honestly`

`what are u working on right now?`

If he describes a project (restoring a truck, building an engine, etc.):

`wait so ur basically bringing it back to life?`

`that takes so much dedication i love that`

`can u send me a pic of it sometime?`

When he sends a pic of his project:

`oh wow that's beautiful honestly`

`u did all of that yourself?`

`i love a man who can make something out of nothing`

🎯 SHOOTING RANGE / GUNS

When he mentions the shooting range:

`oh really?`

`u would take me to the range?`

`no one ever did that for me before`

`i've always wanted to learn how to shoot`

If he talks about his collection:

`do u have a lot of guns?`

(after he answers)

`that's actually really cool`

`i feel like a man who knows how to handle a gun is just different`

If he says he goes every weekend:

`that's so consistent`

`i love that u have something that's just urs like that`

🏕️ CAMPING / OUTDOORS

When he says he loves the outdoors:

`i can tell u r the type of guy who actually knows how to survive in the woods lol`

`like u wouldn't need google maps to find ur way back`

If he camps regularly:

`do u do the full setup like campfire and everything?`

(after he answers)

`that sounds so amazing honestly`

`i would love to just sit by a fire and have nothing to worry about`

⚽ IF HE WATCHES SPORTS (football, NASCAR, etc.)

`oh ur a [team name] fan?`

`i can respect that lol`

`do u watch at home or go out to bars for the games?`

If he watches at home:

`so ur the type that has the big setup at home?`

`comfy couch, snacks, the whole thing?`

`that sounds honestly like the perfect sunday`

🗂️ PHASE 5 — PHYSICAL VALIDATION (The Ego Phase)

Never compliment vaguely. Tie compliments to specific things he said. [youtube]

📏 HEIGHT — Make Him Feel Tall

> The average American man is 5'9". Most blue-collar men are between 5'7"–6'0" and have been told their whole lives they're "average." Always position yourself at 5'2"–5'3" so he towers over you.

When height comes up naturally:

If he says 5'8":

`wow ur sooo much taller than me`

`i'd literally have to look up at u lol`

`i like being smaller honestly`

If he says 5'10":

`ok that's actually so tall to me`

`i'm only 5'3 so i'd be tiny next to u`

`i love that honestly`

If he says 5'11" or 6':

`ok stop u r massive compared to me lol`

`i'm barely 5'3`

`i'd feel so safe next to u`

If he's insecure about his height (says something like "i know i'm not that tall"):

`are u kidding me`

`u would literally tower over me`

`i find that so attractive`

💪 STRENGTH / PHYSICAL WORK

`i bet ur hands are rough from work huh`

(after he confirms)

`i love that honestly`

`soft hands on a man are such a turn off to merough hands mean u actually do something real with ur life`

If he mentions lifting heavy things at work:

`so ur basically working out all day at work`

`that's honestly so attractive to me`

`gym guys don't have anything on men who actually work physical jobs`

🧔 OLDER MEN (35–55 range)

Most of these subscribers are 35–55. They often feel invisible to younger women.[millionairematch]

If he mentions his age like it's a negative:

`why are u saying it like that lol`

`i actually love older guys`

`they know what they want and they actually show up`

If he's surprised you're talking to him:

`why wouldn't i be`

`u seem like exactly my type honestly`

🗂️ PHASE 6 — DOMESTIC FANTASY (The "Dream Girl" Phase)

This is the most powerful retention tool. You paint the picture that you are the perfect woman for HIS specific lifestyle. Not a generic fantasy — HIS fantasy based on everything he just told you.reddit+1

After a Dirty/Physical Job:

`i honestly think a man who works that hard deserves to come home to a good meal`

`like that should just be the standard`

`i actually really love cooking for someone who appreciates it`

If he seems surprised:

`i'm serious`

`i feel like most guys who work like u do just come home to an empty fridge`

`that's honestly so sad to me`

After Fishing / Hunting:

`u know what i love the idea of`

`like u go out and catch something and i cook it when u get back`

`that's like the perfect evening honestly`

If he agrees:

`right?`

`people don't do that anymore and i think that's why nobody's happy`

After He Mentions Liking to Eat Steak:

`u liking ur steak medium rare i'm guessing`

(after he confirms)

`ok i think i'm actually a really good cook tho`

`i could handle that for sure`

`esp if it's for a hardworking guy like u`

After Truck Driving / Long Hauls:

`so when u finally get home after a long trip what do u actually want?`

(after he answers)

`that's all?`

`u deserve so much more than that honestly`

`like a real meal and someone who actually missed u`

The "Nobody Wants Me" Play (After He Compliments You)

When he says something like "no way ur single":

`i am.. and nobody wants me honestly`

`idk why`

> 💡 Why this works: It's completely counterintuitive. He's just told you you're amazing. Your vulnerability makes him want to fix it. He immediately positions himself as the man who WOULD want you. This is one of the strongest emotional hooks in the entire guide.[matthewhussey][youtube]

After he pushes back with "that can't be true":

`i appreciate that`

`i just feel like most guys don't really get me u know`

`like i want something real not just something fun`

🗂️ PHASE 7 — RE-ENGAGEMENT (Keeping Him Coming Back)

The conversation will naturally pause. Your job is to plant seeds that pull him back.

Before He Has to Leave:

`ohhh so we are keeping the fun for later?`

`can u promise to hmu when ur done`

`i literally have so much fun talking to u`

Following Up When He Returns:

`[NAME]!!!! ur back`

`i literally thought about what u said earlier`

`did u get to [do the thing he mentioned]?`

If He Disappears for a Day or Two:

`heyy u okay out there?`

`u went quiet on me`

> 💡 Note: Never double-text more than once if he goes silent. One soft check-in is enough. Desperation kills connection.[matthewhussey]

If He Had a Hard Day at Work:

`aww honestly u deserve a break`

`like actually`

`what would ur perfect evening look like after a day like that?`

🗂️ BONUS SCENARIOS — Advanced Situations

😤 He Complains About His Ex

`wow she sounds like a lot honestly`

`u seem like u give a lot in a relationship`

`that's rare for real`

Do NOT trash the ex aggressively. Just position yourself as the opposite.

😅 He's Nervous or Self-Deprecating

If he says something like "i'm just a simple guy":

`i love simple guys honestly`

`simple guys actually show up`

`complicated guys are exhausting lol`

🐶 He Mentions His Dog / Pet

`wait what kind of dog?`

(after he answers)

`ok a man with a dog is literally everything to me`

`it says so much about a person honestly`

👦 He Mentions His Kids

`aww that's actually so sweet`

`being a dad is so underrated honestly`

`it's one of the most attractive things about a man to me`

🏡 He Mentions He Owns His Home

`wait u own ur own place?`

`ok that's honestly so attractive`

`there's something about a man who built his own life like that`

😂 He Makes a Joke / Is Funny

`lmaooo ok ur actually hilarious`

`i was not expecting that`

`okay i like u`

🌙 Late Night Conversation

`ur up late`

`long day?`

(after he explains)

`i love late night convos honestly`
